PROGRESSIVES MEET TODAY

Hold Session at Windsor Hotel Behind Closed Doors.

A meeting of Progressives was held at the Windsor hotel this afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was not made public because the this afternoon. The coming of District Chairman Roberts of Greenfield was awaited for some time and occasioned some delay, but he had not arrived the middle of the afternoon and the meeting was started.

CALLS ATTENTION TO SOFT HIGHWAYS

County Superintendent Asks Co-operation to Prevent Heavy Hauling and Resultant Damage.

ASSISTANTS NOT ALL NAMED

County Road Superintendent Hal
Green calls attention to the soft condition of the highways and urges the people to co-operate with him and not use the highways at this time for heavy hauling. "The roads right now," said Mr. Green today, "are in the worse shape they have been for fifteen years."

He explained this by stating that ordinarily the roads at this time of the year would be frozen and thus heavy hauling could be permitted.
But now there is practically no frost in the ground and as a result there is no bottom to the roads.

There is a penalty against heavy hauling on the highways this time of the year, but Mr. Green does not desire to prosecute and would rather have the people using the roads co-operate with him. The new highway superintendent has not announced his list of assistants. The list will be ready to submit to the board of commissioners at their next meeting, February 7. The old assistants will remain in office until the new ones are appointed.

FAVOR RETURN TO REPUBLICAN PARTY

Three-Fourths of Progressive National Committee Look on Amalgamation With Favor.

MESSAGE FROM ROOSEVELT

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Calling on Progressive national committee to cast aside all purely partisan considerations, Theodore Roosevelt today wired a plea for national preparedness to the committee as it met in conferences prior to selecting a date for the party's national convention.
Three-fourths of the Progressive national committeemen favor amalgamation with the Republican party if it "can be accomplished with honor."

As the committee prepared to meet today, sentiment of both eastern and western committeemen indicated a return to the G. O. P. fold is more than possible. It is all up to the Republicans.

SERVICE ISN'T SATISFACTORY

Many Complaints Are Made in Wayne County Concerning Mo-torization of Rural Mail Routes.

MUCH DELAY IN DELIVERY

Evening Item Prints Petitions Asking Patrons to Fill Out and Forward to Washington.

A hornet's nest has been stirred up in Wayne county over the motor-ization of the rural mail routes. Because of delays in mail delivery and non-delivery, too, the Richmond Evening Item, an independent newspaper has taken a stand for improved service, has published a petition which it urges Wayne county rural mail patrons to cut out, sign and forward to Washington as one means of bettering conditions.

Monday evening's Item had a three-column editorial in heavy black-face type on the front page, virtually urging an uprising and assertion of rights on the part of rural mail patrons in order to get the kind of service they used to have before the motor routes were established.

In addition to the editorial, the Item has a two-column news story telling of the difficulties and inconveniences that have been encountered by country people since motor routes have been in use. The principal difficulty seems to be in the routes out of Richmond. There are four routes leaving there now and the Item demands that there be at least six routes out of the county seat office.

The motor routes are designed to lessen the expense of the rural mail service and also to make it better.
The Item says that many patrons have been receiving their mail as late as five o'clock in the evening whereas, when mail was delivered in horse-drawn vehicles, every carrier was through by two-thirty in the afternoon at the latest, and many of them sooner than that.

The Item says no effort should be made to learn who did the bungling;
the purpose now is to correct the mistakes that have been made so that the service will be restored to its former efficiency. The Item points out some routes where the carrier has to double back over the same stretches of road to serve all of his patrons. It is stated that the map of one route "looks like a plan of an ancient labyrinth."

All of this trouble has developed after only one week of motorized service. At present the four routes leading from Richmond cover 220 miles and each route serves from 300 to 350 boxes.

WILL CONTEST SUIT IS FILED

Mrs. Mary A. Heaton Seeks to Break Document Left by Her Mother to Dispose of $10,000 Estate.

PLAINTIFF RECEIVES $100

Complaint Alleges Late Sarah J.
Stewart Was of Unsound Mind
Undue Influence Was Used.

A suit to contest the will of the late Sarah J. Stewart of Noble township, who left an estate valued at $10,000 was filed this afternoon in circuit court, by Chauncey Duncan representing the plaintiff, Mrs.
Mary A. Heaton, a daughter of the late Mrs. Stewart.

The defendants to the suit are all heirs and benefactors under the terms of the will, being the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Stewart.
The defendants named in the suit are Wilson E. Stewart, Orna Stewart, Pleasant Stewart, Effie Stewart Smith, Della Stewart Bennett and Gertrude Williams.

Out of the estate alleged to be worth $10,000 Mrs. Heaton, the plaintiff, was left the sum of $100 under the terms of a will, which is attacked in the complaint as a pretended will and made while Mrs.
Stewart was of unsound mind.

The complaint states that Mrs.
Stewart died on August 1, 1915 and then sets out the relationship of the different parties named in the complaint.

In asking that the will be declared void and that a new administrator be appointed the complaint states that at the time the will was alleged to have been made Mrs. Stewart was of unsound mind and was not capable of making a will. It is also maintained that the execution of the will was procured by undue influence and was unduly executed.

It is further alleged that the will was never executed by Mrs. Stewart and the signature purporting to be hers was not made or signed by her nor by any person in her presence or at her request.

The will in question is made a part of the complaint and marked exhibit "A." The will was drawn in the offices of Smith and Smith and witnesses given were Warder Wyatt, Donald Smith and the late Ben L. Smith. In the provision pertaining to Mrs. Heaton the will states that she left $100 because she is well cared for and that the other children who are not so fortunate should receive the benefits.

POLICE GET COMPLAINTS

Householders Say so Many School Children Walk on Lawns.

Numerous complaints have reached police headquarters regarding school children using the lawn instead of the sidewalk in going and coming from school. The complaints have come from all parts of the city, but the largest number were from the neighborhood of the Jackson school.
The teachers have been asked to notify the pupils to stay on the walks instead of using the lawns and and if the order is not obeyed some means will be used.

SERIOUS FIRE IS BARELY PREVENTED

Quick Work on Part of Ray Williams Nips Blaze That Gets Start From Burning Gas Jet.

CHEMICALS EXTINGUISH IT

Quick work on the part of Ray Williams prevented a serious fire loss at the Fox Brothers Drug store this morning about eleven o'clock.
A gas jet above the prescription case ignited the woodwork and the flames quickly spread to some draperies. Williams, who is employed at the store rushed out the rear door to the fire department and securing a large chemical tank succeeded in putting out the fire before much damage resulted.

The drug stock of the store was not damaged. The fire while it lasted was very hot and the paper was melted from the ceiling and caught fire. On the prescription case was a large amount of valuable drugs and chemicals. Some of the chemicals were explosive in nature but luckily the flames were prevented from spreading to these. The store was filled with smoke but it is not believed any damage will result to the rest of the stock because of this.

TRIED TO SINK THE SUBMARINE

Italian Steamer Porto Said, Eventually Sunk, Made Ineffectual Effort to Ram Submersible.

STORY IN VIENNA DISPATCH

Captain Attempted to Escape in Boat and Submarine Commander Made Him Help Passengers.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (Via Sayville), Jan. 11.—
The Italian steamer Porto Said, sunk by an Austrian submarine, first attempted to escape and then tried to ram and sink the submersible, Vienna dispatches started today.

"Despite this fact," Vienna asserted, "the submarine commander took unusual precautions to safeguard the lives of persons aboard the steamer. In so doing he imperiled the safety of his own men."

"The submarine first ordered the steamer to stop but she attempted to escape," said Vienna dispatches.
"Then she ran up the white flag and stopped."

"When the submarine approached the steamer suddenly steered against the submarine in order to ram her. The submarine then opened fire and hit the steamer, which again stopped and began lowering her boats."

"The submarine then stopped firing, upon approaching found that boats were pulling away paying no heed to persons swimming in the water, but heading for the coast.
The submarine commander then halted a boat containing the Porto Said captain, threatening to shoot him if he did not put about and save these persons."

Here's New Vigor For Overworked Stomachs

Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists, have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion of the best way of selling medicines. They say the plan adopted by Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the fairest they have ever heard of. They don't believe that a medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. And Mi-o-na is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave 50 cents on deposit with Johnson's Drug Store and if, after you have used the box of Mi-o-na you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell them so and they will return your money.

Hundreds of people have been relieved of stomach agonies by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food digester; it is a medicine that puts all of the digestive organs into normal condition and gives ruddy, glowing vigorous health. A change for the better will be seen after the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward. Use Mi-o-na and see how much more there is in life.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

THE AMERICAN RAVEN.

Found Now Only In Safe Retreats In the Rocky Mountains.

The raven has gained little in the affections of the people from his kindly act of supplying Elijah, the prophet, with food when hunger pressed him. The raven is thought of as a bird of ill omen wherever his black shadow appears. He is the sinister bird, and he cannot shake from his feathers his evil name, though it be only in part deserved.

How can any one be supposed to cultivate affection for a bird of which a great poet could write lines like these: The sad presaging raven tolls The sick man's passport in her hollow beak.

And in the shadow of the silent night Doth shake contagion from her sable wing. The raven is passing. Already it has almost entirely disappeared from the British islands. Formerly the American raven was fairly common in our middle western country, in New England and in the lower ranges of the Allegheny mountains. Today it is only occasionally to be seen in its ancient haunts.

In the Rocky mountains, however, where men are scarce, the raven is holding its own. It builds its nest on the edge of the ledges of the inaccessible cliffs, and, sighting its foe from afar, it keeps the distance in which lies safety.

The raven is ugly in shape, as it is in voice. Its sole beauty lies in the luster of its feathers when the sun strikes them full and fair. It is a bearded bird, with high shoulders and certain bumps and humps here and there to make its form seem utterly lost to symmetry.

The bird is not altogether bad. It robs the nests of other birds, and it is this trait of character which has lost it caste and life in England. The gamekeeper shoots it on sight, and in recent years, because of the growing scarcity, the museum collectors have been hunting the raven in all places where it is reported to have dared to show its head.

The raven is the bird of books. It has a larger place in literature perhaps than all other birds combined if we except the eagle. Shakespeare mentions it no less than fifty times. Milton did not neglect it, and all the poets—ancient, medieval and modern—have considered the raven.

The American raven probably will be safe in his Rocky mountain haunts for years to come, but he is so far removed from man's habitations that his picturesqueness, his oddities, his gravities and his croakings virtually are lost to the world.—Chicago Post.

Hoosier Preparedness.

Centennial year is now with us. We have been thinking and dreaming of it in terms of "next year," but we are now writing it "1916." We have advertised to the world our far-reaching plans for a state-wide observance, including an ambitious scheme of county and state celebrations. We have already invited our guests.

Unusual attention will be attracted toward Indiana this year, because of her Centennial anniversary. States that have already passed their one hundredth milestone will be curious to see how the Hoosier Commonwealth observes hers. States that have the event to look forward to, will be especially observant. In view of the Centennial, many national organizations will meet with us during the year. Moreover, thousands of Ex-Hoosiers are expected to come trooping home from all over the country.

With our Centennial party announced and the guests invited, it behooves us all to busy ourselves to see that we are fully prepared for the raising of the curtain upon our Centennial program. The time is short, and vigorous, united action must succeed vague and uncertain dreaming.

In the various counties, Centennial chairmen have been appointed, who have accepted the leadership in maturing and executing plans for local observances. They are leaders only. The responsibility rests upon all. It is up to all the public spirited citizens, and to commercial and civic organizations to see that preparations are energetically pushed toward a successful conclusion.

Eleventh hour Centennial celebrations, superficially conceived and frantically executed, will defeat the high purposes of the Centennial and will seriously reflect upon our citizenship. There is no time to be lost. Begin now.

Shall we not bend every energy toward making ready to receive and entertain guests so soon to arrive to do Indiana honor. This is preparedness, sane, logical, imperative. It's 1916. Let's go!

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

"The Sons of Liberty."

The strongholds of the "Sons of Liberty" were on Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri, though they were represented in the eastern states of the North. Vallandigham claimed a membership of 40,000 in Indiana in 1864, doubtless a high estimate. There was the double organization, the civil, composed of the mass, working for democratic success; the inner, or military, wishing to form Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, and Wisconsin into a Northwestern Confederacy, and failing in that, to go with the South. The leaders belonged to both organizations.

Choosing.

A dozen pretty girls were cavorting about the stage at an amateur theatrical rehearsal when two young men took seats in the last row. "So your girl's in this show, eh?" said one youth. "Yep," replied the other. "She's on the stage right now." "Which one is she?" "The pretty one," came the reply in all seriousness.—Detroit News.

WHAT IS STYLE?

It is Difficult to Define Because It is So Intangible.

What makes a woman stylish? Applied to dress, style is a curiously elusive quality, either to define or to acquire.

"A stylish garment!" we say of one made in the fashion of the day. But when we ask, "What is the style of the garment?" we are inquiring for a description that may be of this year's style, or last year's, or of the last century's. A dress may be "in style" so far as its material, cut and trimming go and yet not look stylish when worn, either because it is worn by the wrong person or in the wrong way.

Style is not a simple quality, but a compound one. "We say style," says an old writer, "of everything in which form or matter is conceived to be, in however slight degree, expressive of taste and sentiment." And it is taste and sentiment more than a specific mode that go to the making of style in dress—that intangible something so hard to define, so seldom acquired and so much desired because it is so widely admired.

The French word chic expresses, as Americans and English use it today, a good deal of what we have in mind when we say "stylish." It implies a certain knack in the selection and manner of wearing clothes. The meaning in French includes the idea of subtlety and finesse, and it is these qualities more than the elegant (striking) effect that are suggested by the best dressed women, so often lacking in those of expensively dressed Americans.—Good Health.

Entirely Stopped.

It was at a big boxing show in Brooklyn that at the time for beginning the third round of one of the bouts the official master of ceremonies climbed through the ropes and from the center of the ring made this statement: "Gentlemen, I wish to announce that in the last round Harry Pierce broke his hand and is compelled to stop. He is therefore unable to continue. And so he will not fight any more tonight."—Saturday Evening Post.

The First Oyster Eater.

The gluttonous Vitellius is reported to have eaten 1,000 oysters at a sitting. "He was a very valiant man who first ventured on eating of oysters," King James was wont to declare, a sentiment echoed by the poet Gay: The man had sure a palate covered o'er With brass or steel that on the rocky shore First broke the oozy oyster's pearly coat And risked the living morsel down his throat.

Thackeray's Appetite.

Thackeray, telling of a dinner he enjoyed at Antwerp, said it consisted "of green pea soup, boiled salmon, mussels, crimped skate, roast meat patties, melon, carp stewed with mushrooms and onions, roast turkey, cauliflower, fillets of venison, stewed calf's ear, roast veal, roast lamb, stewed cherries, Gruyere cheese and about twenty-four cakes of different kinds. Except five, thirteen and fourteen I ate all, with three rolls of bread and a score of potatoes."

Those twenty potatoes remind the reader of the dreadful disillusion of Charlotte Bronte when she came to London and sat opposite her literary lion at dinner. "Oh, Mr. Thackeray!" she cried in shocked surprise as she watched him eat. She had never imagined a hero who ate potatoes by the score.

Followed Suit.

In the highlands of Scotland a chieftain is always addressed by the name of his estate. An amusing story in connection with this custom is told of Sir Frank Lockwood. On one occasion when MacLaine of Lochbule and his wife arrived at a social gathering they were announced quite correctly by the butler as "Lochbule and Mrs. MacLaine." Sir Frank and Lady Lockwood happened to arrive at the same time, and Sir Frank, having overheard the other announcement, whispered hurriedly to the butler. The man hesitated, but apparently Lockwood convinced him, for when he flung open the door to admit the Lockwoods the butler announced, "No Forty-three, Portman Square, and Lady Lockwood."—London Tit-Bits.

Wm. G. MULNOFerndell Ferndell Ferndell

This word has become a household word in every Rushville home where Ferndell Pure Foods have been used.

Quality considered, Ferndell foods are no more expensive than other brands and in many instances are cheaper. For instance, Ferndell Tomatoes sell for 15c. Every can is full of whole, ripe, tomatoes and has more food value than two or even three of the cheap varieties. Ferndell Corn is packed in Maine, where the best corn grows, yet we sell it two cans for 25c. Ferndell Telephone Peas at 12½c per can are a great bargain. Ferndell Pearl Hominy at 10c and Ferndell Baked Beans at 15c per can are no higher than any other brands not so good. Ferndell Prepared Pancake and Buckwheat Flours sell for 10c, and contain two ounces more than most brands. Ferndell self-raising Pure Buckwheat Flour is something new, 15c per 2 pound package. Ferndell Canned Fruits cost more than many other brands, but dozens of Rushville housewives will tell you they are glad to pay the difference because no where have they ever found any half so good. We will call your attention to but one article in the canned fruits. Ferndell Skinless Figs are the most delicious fruit ever put in a can. Each can contains one pound and 7 ounces and sells for 40c. We have lately taken up Ferndell Coffee and our customers tell us they are of the same high quality as the rest of the line, prices, 25c, 30c, 35c, and 40c per lb. When you want something better and different ask us for FERDEL—No other store in Rushville has these goods.

BROOKVILLE GAME IS NEXT

Locals Go There Friday Expecting a Hard Contest.

The Rushville high school team will play at Brookville Friday night. The local team has gained much confidence over the Shelbyville victory and Coach Burns is pointing his men to a second win over Brookville. Rushville defeated Brookville here two weeks ago, but with Brookville on its home floor the locals are expecting a hard fought game. It will be the first time Rushville has ever played in Brookville and a crowd of rooters will accompany the team. The team came out of the Shelbyville game in good shape and the regular lineup will be sent against Brookville.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully, and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

TURKS MEET WITH GREATEST VICTORY

Constantinople Dispatches Says Violent Battle Preceded Withdrawal of The Allies.

10,000 TROOPS SURROUNDED

Berlin, (By Wireless), Jan. 11.—A violent battle lasting for three days preceded the Anglo-French withdrawal from the Gallipoli peninsula, according to Constantinople dispatches today reporting the greatest Turkish victory of the war. "Turk artillery sank an enemy transport filled with soldiers," the dispatch said. "All the enemies positions were occupied by Turkish troops and enormous piles of booty as yet uncounted were taken."

Ten thousand British troops have been surrounded by Turks southeast of Bagdad, according to dispatches from Constantinople.

The British detachment was left behind to cover the retreat of the main body of General Townsend's forces who were defeated with heavy casualties when they advanced on Bagdad.

MUST LAY UP GUNS UNTIL APRIL FIRST

Hunting Season For All Kinds of Game Closes Monday—Game Wardens on the Alert.

NO MORE RABBITS ON MARKET

The hunting season for all kinds of game closed Monday until April 1. The open quail season closed December 20 and since that time it was lawful to kill rabbits. After Monday, however, it is unlawful to hunt any kind of wild game until the first day of April.

It is understood that the game wardens will endeavor to enforce the closed season regulations and will be on the alert for violators. There have been few arrests in this vicinity during the fall and winter for violations of the game laws and it is understood that the hunters have been complying with the laws. The average hunter is as much interested in protecting game, especially quail, as the farmer and is quick to assist the wardens in prosecuting any attempt to violate the law.

FUNERAL IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Last Sad Rites Will be Held Over Body of Wesley Miller Who Died of Gangrene.

WIDOW AND TWO SONS LEFT

The funeral services of Wesley Miller, who died yesterday about noon at his home, three miles south of Arlington in Posey township, will be conducted Wednesday morning at ten o'clock in the Arlington Christian church and burial will take place in the East Hill cemetery there. The services will be in charge of the Odd Fellows lodge of which Mr. Miller was a member.

ATHLETIC LEAGUE ADVOCATED HERE

Plan is Presented as Method to Solve Problem of Allowing Out-siders Use of the Gym.

SCHOOL BOARD SANCTIONS IT

Several Rushville men have proposed the organization of an athletic association as a means of utilizing the new gymnasium in the Graham Annex school building. It is advocated that those interested in such a project and who want to "work out" at the gymnasium should band together in an organization, with the payment of small dues, to meet the local expenses such as the actual cost of lighting and janitor's work.

The question has been submitted to the school board and has met with the trustees' approval. They welcomed it as an ideal method to solve the problem of allowing others than high school students the use of the gymnasium. It is stated that the organization could draft by-laws and fix certain hours when the gym could be used by members of the association. Also, it is stated, the association could put out independent teams to meet those of surrounding cities. It is highly probable a meeting of interested persons will be called soon to form such an association.

Amusements

The Princess will show a 3 reel feature "Despair" for the program tonight. Bryant, Washburn and Edna Mayo are featured and it is a story of unusual interest and is full of action and dramatic situations. Tomorrow matinee and night the next chapter of "Neal of the Navy" will be shown. On Friday night the New York Sun's prize scenario picture "The Sins of the Mothers" will be shown. Four thousand manuscripts were submitted in this contest. The judges were John Bunny, Maurice Costello and a number of other men interested in better pictures. "The Sins of the Mothers" is a story of gambling. The heroine is a beautiful girl. She loves cards. She loves races. She loves roulette. She loves all games of chance. Anita Stewart and Earl Williams are featured.

Football fans will be intensely interested in a genuine football match between two western teams in "The College Orphan," a romantic college comedy produced by William C. Dowland of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, which comes to the Gem theatre tomorrow with Carter De Haven and Flora Parker De Haven in the principal roles. "The College Orphan" is a drama with high spots of comedy. It tells the story of a hellraising young college boy who gets some stiff jolts all around but who has the makings of a man in him and lands on his feet after some hair-raising adventures.

Glycerine and Bark Prevent Appendicitis

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, astonishes Rushville people. Because Adler-i-ka sets on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is astonishing. Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

HE THRUST GRIEF ASIDE.

Because He Was a Journalist, With a Duty to Perform.

Apropos of journalistic enthusiasm, Mr. Arnold Bennett furnishes a humorous illustration. He was twenty and a reporter for a small paper. An election had taken place in which his paper's candidate had been defeated and a brewer had won. His editor had given him instructions that if they lost he was to make fun of the brewer, and in any case to deliver his copy by 11 o'clock next morning. Mr. Bennett says:

"I attended the declaration of the poll, and as the elated brewer made his speech of ceremony in front of the town hall I observed that his hat was stove in and askew. I fastened on that detail and went to bed in meditation upon the facetious notes which I was to write early on the morrow. In the middle of the night I was wakened up. My venerable grandfather, who lived at the other end of the town, had been taken ill and was dying. As his eldest grandson, my presence at the final scene was indispensable. I went and talked in low tones with my elders.

"Nothing domestic could be permitted to interfere with my duty as a journalist.

"I must write those facetious comments while my grandfather is dying!" This thought filled my brain. It seemed to me to be fine, splendid. I was intensely proud of being laid under a compulsion so startlingly dramatic. Could I manufacture jokes while my grandfather expired? Certainly. I was a journalist. And never since have I been so ardently a journalist as I was that night and morning. With a sense of the theatrical, I wrote my notes at dawn.

MAKING A RECORD

Methods by Which a Phonograph Disk Is Produced.

CATCHING THE SOUND WAVES.

They Are First Imprisoned in Wax and Then Transferred to a Negative in Copper, and From This Master Mold the Records Are Obtained.

The Edison phonograph, the graphophone type perfected by Bell and Tainter and the graphophone type by Berliner are all based on substantially the same principle. Sound waves set up in the air by any sound are allowed to strike a delicately held diaphragm, which vibrates under the impact of the sound waves. The vibrations are made to leave a record on a suitable medium, and this sound record is used to perform the inverse operation when it is required to reproduce recorded sounds—that is, the record is made to vibrate a sensitive diaphragm and set up in the air particular waves, which convey to the ear the impression of sound.

The differences in the systems are in the way in which the vibrations are recorded. The disk record, which made the machine popular, was first manufactured in the United States in 1897. Improvements in the machine and in the needles followed.

To make a gramophone record a person sings before the mouth of a horn, the object of which is to concentrate the energy of the sound waves upon the recording diaphragm. At the narrow end of the horn are the recording sound box and the machine with its attendant expert. There is a screen between singer and operator to guard the secrets of the sound box. On the farther side of the screen is a horizontal table carrying a wax tablet, rotated beneath the recording sound box at a uniform speed, usually about seventy-six revolutions per minute. As the table rotates it travels laterally at a uniform speed, and the wax tablet is thus caused to travel slowly under the stationary recording box. The sapphire cutting point is lowered so as to enter the wax three and one-half to four one-thousandths of an inch, and as the machine runs it cuts a fine spiral groove, running from the edge to the center. The construction of the sound box is secret, as is the composition of the wax tablet.

The next step in the process is the reproduction of the record as a negative in copper. The wax is dusted with graphite and worked into the grooves with a badger brush to make it electro-conductive; then it is lowered into an electrolytic bath of copper salt solution. The wax is kept in continuous motion in the bath until the copper shell is nine-tenths of a millimeter in thickness.

This negative is a master, and from this a few commercial samples can be pressed to test the quality of the record. The manufacturers, however, wish to make thousands of copies without hurting their master; therefore they make duplicates of their master by taking impressions in wax composition, from which working matrices are made. Then copper shells are obtained from these in the same way. The copper shell is then backed by a brass plate one-half inch in thickness by soldering under pressure.

Then the matrix is nickel plated on the recorded side in order to wear better and after polishing is ready for the pressing machine. The commercial record is pressed into some substance hard at normal temperature and plastic under heat and very hard and smooth. Various compounds are employed by different makers, but shellac is the principal ingredient. Shellac, wood charcoal, heavy spar and earthy coloring matter in certain proportions are used.

This compound after careful mixing is rolled into thin sheets and divided into sections, one for each record. The section is then pressed by a hydraulic press. The matrix is heated and placed face up in a mold, the label is placed face down on the matrix, and on this is placed in a warm, plastic state enough material for one record. Both halves of the press are furnished with cooling plates, through which streams of water can be passed, and the surfaces are cooled quickly. The record is then removed, the edges trimmed with emery wheels, and it is then ready for sale.—New York Times.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break up a cold or cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Five days work in the special branch of chicken raising are on the program for those interested in that line of industry. Over 2,000 farmers are in attendance including many women and children.

In every department the visitors got down to hard work today. The corn growers are studying the problems of their particular phase of farming and in the other departments the horticulturists, the dairymen the poultrymen and the housewives are hearing lectures, witnessing demonstrations and learning many new things concerning their life work. Thursday evening the assembly will hear an address on "Rural Church Welfare" by the Rev. Oakel F. Hall of Purdue.

Two meetings of agricultural associations enlivened today's sessions of the Short Course. The Indiana State Poultry association, a new organization, and the Indiana Sheep Feeders and Breeders association both held their yearly conventions in connection with the Short Course. Tomorrow the Indiana Corn Growers Association will meet and the annual corn show will open. Thursday the Indiana State Dairy Association meets and also the Indiana Home Economics Association.

One of the most interesting features of the week's program was an illustrated lecture last night by Prof. George I. Christie, superintendent of the Agricultural Extension Department, on "The Relation of Purdue University to Indiana Agriculture and Country Life." It was the first of the popular evening assemblies in connection with the Short Course. Prof. Christie took advantage of the occasion to review the progress that has been made in agriculture in Indiana during the past two decades. He defined the policies of Purdue University and emphasized the fact that it is a many-sided institution that deals with numerous phases of education. But since agriculture is Indiana's principal industry he showed the relation of all branches of the University to the farms of the state. Every department has contributed in some manner to rural advancement.

In the dairy section today several problems that confront Indiana dairymen were considered. Prof. R. E. Caldwell said that the economical selection of concentrated high protein feeds for dairy cows is the big problem before the feeder of dairy cows at the present time. Cotton seed meal has been an economical feed in past years, but the present scarcity and high price almost eliminated it.

One of the most interesting numbers on the program of the Home Economics division of the Short Course was a talk today by Mrs. Christine Frederick of New York on "The Efficiency Kitchen and Its Tools."

"Equipment must be arranged to fit the kitchen," she said in a way to save steps and time. The choice of tools depends upon the need. All tools should be regarded on an investment basis. Labor-saving devices must be considered from the standpoint of cost of installation, use and care before being purchased as labor savers."

"The Farm Orchard," a lecture by Prof. C. G. Woodbury, was the principal feature of the day's program in the Horticultural Section. He urged farmers either to have a small home orchard or else a commercial orchard but which are absolutely neglected from a commercial point of view. "The farmer listens to the glib-tongued nurseryman," said Prof. Woodbury, "and makes large plantings that he can never take care of. In order to make an orchard pay you must give as much thought and attention to an orchard acre as you do to a corn acre. Can't neglect your orchard. It is better to cut down the trees, leaving only enough to supply your own home needs. Every farm should have a home orchard but only those farms owned by men in sympathy with fruit growing should attempt to support a commercial orchard as a side-line."

The popularity of the judging work in corn given at the Farmers' Short Course was never more apparent than this year, as indicated by the large number of farmers and their sons attending these classes. Today it was necessary to provide extra quarters to take care of the record-breaking attendance. The object is to instruct farmers in selecting the right kind of seed corn and properly storing the ears so they will dry out quickly.

Prof. Martin L. Fisher discussed "Forage Crops" this morning and said that every year there are thousands of farms in the state on which not sufficient forage is produced to adequately supply the needs of the livestock kept. He said that special forage crops can be used to good advantage. Rape makes a good substitute for clover for hogs and sheep.

OPPOSITION TO PROGRAM GROWS

Chairman Hay Tells President Continental Army Plan is Doomed Increase in Regulars, Though.

COMPROMISED IS FORECASTED

(By United Press.) Washington, Jan. 11.—Rising opposition to the administration's preparedness program was considered at today's cabinet meeting. The president also conferred with Chairman Hay of the house military committee.

Hay is understood to have told the president that the continental army plan is doomed but that some increase in the regular army and expansion of the national guard as a reserve army are favored.

The president, it was learned, plans to exercise his personal influence on members of the senate and house to counteract influence of W. J. Bryan.

Half-hearted support of Democratic leaders was emphasized. A compromise on both the army and navy programs was forecasted.

IRISH PARTY IS FOR CONSCRIPTION

Removal of Opposition From That Source Means Measure Will Pass by Overwhelming Vote.

MAY WIN OVER LABOR PARTY

(By United Press.) London, June 11.—Unexpected announcement today by John Redmond, Irish leader, that the Irish party has withdrawn its opposition to the government conscription bill made it appear certain that the measure will pass commons by an overwhelming vote.

Redmond warned the government a fortnight ago that Ireland would bitterly oppose an attempt to force conscription. The government's decision to exclude Ireland from the provisions of the bill won over several Irish leaders.

Efforts will be made tomorrow to win the support of the labor party and obtain the passage of the bill as nearly unanimously vote as possible to show that Great Britain presents a united front.

CALLS ATTENTION TO SOFT HIGHWAYS

County Superintendent Asks Co-operation to Prevent Heavy Hauling and Resultant Damage.

ASSISTANTS NOT ALL NAMED

County Road Superintendent Hal Green calls attention to the soft condition of the highways and urges the people to co-operate with him and not use the highways at this time for heavy hauling. "The roads right now," said Mr. Green today, "are in the worse shape they have been for fifteen years."

He explained this by stating that ordinarily the roads at this time of the year would be frozen and thus heavy hauling could be permitted. But now there is practically no frost in the ground and as a result there is no bottom to the roads.

There is a penalty against heavy hauling on the highways this time of the year, but Mr. Green does not desire to prosecute and would rather have the people using the roads co-operate with him. The new highway superintendent has not announced his list of assistants. The list will be ready to submit to the board of commissioners at their next meeting, February 7. The old assistants will remain in office until the new ones are appointed.

FAVOR RETURN TO REPUBLICAN PARTY

Three-Fourths of Progressive National Committee Look on Amalgamation With Favor.

MESSAGE FROM ROOSEVELT

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Jan. 11.—Calling on Progressive national committee to cast aside all purely partisan considerations, Theodore Roosevelt today wired a plea for national preparedness to the committee as it met in conference prior to selecting a date for the party's national convention. Three-fourths of the Progressive national committeemen favor amalgamation with the Republican party if it "can be accomplished with honor."

As the committee prepared to meet today, sentiment of both eastern and western committeemen indicated a return to the G. O. P. fold is more than possible. It is all up to the Republicans.

SERVICE ISN'T SATISFACTORY

Many Complaints Are Made in Wayne County Concerning Motorization of Rural Mail Routes.

MUCH DELAY IN DELIVERY

Evening Item Prints Petitions Asking Patrons to Fill Out and Forward to Washington.

A hornet's nest has been stirred up in Wayne county over the motorization of the rural mail routes. Because of delays in mail delivery and non-delivery, too, the Richmond Evening Item, an independent newspaper has taken a stand for improved service. It has published a petition which it urges Wayne county rural mail patrons to cut out, sign and forward to Washington as one means of bettering conditions.

Monday evening's Item had a three-column editorial in heavy black-face type on the front page, virtually urging an uprising and assertion of rights on the part of rural mail patrons in order to get the kind of service they used to have before the motor routes were established.

In addition to the editorial, the Item has a two-column news story telling of the difficulties and inconveniences that have been encountered by country people since motor routes have been in use. The principal difficulty seems to be in the routes out of Richmond. There are four routes leaving there now and the Item demands that there be at least six routes out of the county seat office.

The motor routes are designed to lessen the expense of the rural mail service and also to make it better. The Item says that many patrons have been receiving their mail as late as five o'clock in the evening whereas, when mail was delivered in horse-drawn vehicles, every carrier was through by two-thirty in the afternoon at the latest, and many of them sooner than that.

The Item says no effort should be made to learn who did the bungling; the purpose now is to correct the mistakes that have been made so that the service will be restored to its former efficiency. The Item points out some routes where the carrier has to double back over the same stretches of road to serve all of his patrons. It is stated that the map of one route "looks like a plan of an ancient labyrinth."

All of this trouble has developed after only one week of motorized service. At present the four routes leading from Richmond cover 220 miles and each route serves from 300 to 350 boxes.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The following officers were installed Monday night by Ivy lodge, No. 27, Knights of Pythias: Noley Newkirk, C. C.; George W. Coons, V. C. C.; Fred R. Beale, Prelate; George Priest, M. A.; Charles Osman, M. W.; C. S. Green, K. R. & S.; Bert Conde, M. of F.; B. O. Simpson, M. of E.; John Worthington, Inner Guard; Howard Mahin, Outer Guard; Frank Priest, Installing officer.

The independent basketball team will go to Greensburg Wednesday evening for a game with an independent team there. The following players are asked to report at the Graham Annex gym. tonight at 7:30 for practice: Petry, Carrol, Gunning, Denning, Maury, Brecheisen, Bebout and Henley.

Mrs. Mary A. Heaton Seeks to Break Document Left by Her Mother to Dispose of $10,000 Estate.

PLAINTIFF RECEIVES $100

Complaint Alleges Late Sarah J. Stewart Was of Unsound Mind Undue Influence Was Used.

A suit to contest the will of the late Sarah J. Stewart of Noble township, who left an estate valued at $10,000 was filed this afternoon in circuit court, by Chauncey Duncan representing the plaintiff, Mrs. Mary A. Heaton, a daughter of the late Mrs. Stewart.

The defendants to the suit are all heirs and beneficiaries under the terms of the will, being the children and grandchildren of Mrs. Stewart. The defendants named in the suit are Wilson E. Stewart, Orna Stewart, Pleasant Stewart, Effie Stewart Smith, Della Stewart Bennett and Gertrude Williams.

Out of the estate alleged to be worth $10,000 Mrs. Heaton, the plaintiff, was left the sum of $100 under the terms of a will, which is attacked in the complaint as a pretended will and made while Mrs. Stewart was of unsound mind.

The complaint states that Mrs. Stewart died on August 1, 1915 and then sets out the relationship of the different parties named in the complaint.

In asking that the will be declared void and that a new administrator be appointed the complaint states that at the time the will was alleged to have been made Mrs. Stewart was of unsound mind and was not capable of making a will. It is also maintained that the execution of the will was procured by undue influence and was unduly executed.

It is further alleged that the will was never executed by Mrs. Stewart and the signature purporting to be hers was not made or signed by her nor by any person in her presence or at her request.

The will in question is made a part of the complaint and marked exhibit "A." The will was drawn in the offices of Smith and Smith and witnesses given were Warder Wyatt, Donald Smith and the late Ben L. Smith. In the provision pertaining to Mrs. Heaton the will states that she left $100 because she is well cared for and that the other children who are not so fortunate should receive the benefits.

POLICE GET COMPLAINTS

Householders Say so Many School Children Walk on Lawns.

Numerous complaints have reached police headquarters regarding school children using the lawn instead of the sidewalk in going and coming from school. The complaints have come from all parts of the city, but the largest number were from the neighborhood of the Jackson school. The teachers have been asked to notify the pupils to stay on the walks instead of using the lawns and if the order is not obeyed some means will be used.

SERIOUS FIRE IS BARELY PREVENTED

Quick Work on Part of Ray Williams Nips Blaze That Gets Start From Burning Gas Jet.

CHEMICALS EXTINGUISH IT

Quick work on the part of Ray Williams prevented a serious fire loss at the Fox Brothers Drug store this morning about eleven o'clock. A gas jet above the prescription case ignited the woodwork and the flames quickly spread to some draperies. Williams, who is employed at the store rushed out the rear door to the fire department and securing a large chemical tank succeeded in putting out the fire before much damage resulted.

The drug stock of the store was not damaged. The fire while it lasted was very hot and the paper was melted from the ceiling and caught fire. On the prescription case was a large amount of valuable drugs and chemicals. Some of the chemicals were explosive in nature but luckily the flames were prevented from spreading to these. The store was filled with smoke but it is not believed any damage will result to the rest of the stock because of this.

Italian Steamer Porto Said, Eventually Sunk, Made Ineffectual Effort to Ram Submersible.

STORY IN VIENNA DISPATCH

Captain Attempted to Escape in Boat and Submarine Commander Made Him Help Passengers.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, (Via Sayville), Jan. 11.—The Italian steamer Porto Said, sunk by an Austrian submarine, first attempted to escape and then tried to ram and sink the submersible, Vienna dispatches started today.

"Despite this fact," Vienna asserted, "the submarine commander took unusual precautions to safeguard the lives of persons aboard the steamer. In so doing he imperiled the safety of his own men."

"The submarine first ordered the steamer to stop but she attempted to escape," said Vienna dispatches. "Then she ran up the white flag and stopped."

"When the submarine approached the steamer suddenly steered against the submarine in order to ram her. The submarine then opened fire and hit the steamer, which again stopped and began lowering her boats."

"The submarine then stopped firing, upon approaching found that boats were pulling away paying no heed to persons swimming in the water, but heading for the coast. The submarine commander then halted a boat containing the Porto Said captain, threatening to shoot him if he did not put about and save these persons."

Rest is Rust

The business that is standing still today is going backwards.

Good times will pass it before it can catch up.

Resting is indeed rusting when applied to commercial life.

Now is the time for aggressive action. Now is the time to go after sales.

Now is the time when newspaper advertising will yield a greater percentage of returns than for many months.

Here's New Vigor For Overworked Stomachs

Johnson's Drug Store, the popular druggists, have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion of the best way of selling medicines. They say the plan adopted by Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the fairest they have ever heard of. They don't believe that a medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. And Mi-o-na is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave 50 cents on deposit with Johnson's Drug Store and if, after you have used the box of Mi-o-na you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell them so and they will return your money.

Hundreds of people have been relieved of stomach agonies by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food digester; it is a medicine that puts all of the digestive organs into normal condition and gives ruddy, glowing vigorous health. A change for the better will be seen after the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward. Use Mi-o-na and see how much more there is in life.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

THE AMERICAN RAVEN.

Found Now Only in Safe Retreats in the Rocky Mountains.

The raven has gained little in the affections of the people from his kindly act of supplying Elijah, the prophet, with food when hunger pressed him. The raven is thought of as a bird of ill omen wherever his black shadow appears. He is the sinister bird, and he cannot shake from his feathers his evil name, though it be only in part deserved.

How can any one be supposed to cultivate affection for a bird of which a great poet could write lines like these: The sad presaging raven tolls The sick man's passport in her hollow beak.

And in the shadow of the silent night Both shake contagion from her sable wing. The raven is passing. Already it has almost entirely disappeared from the British islands. Formerly the American raven was fairly common in our middle western country, in New England and in the lower ranges of the Allegheny mountains. Today it is only occasionally to be seen in its ancient haunts.

In the Rocky mountains, however, where men are scarce, the raven is holding its own. It builds its nest on the edge of the ledges of the inaccessible cliffs, and, sighting its foe from afar, it keeps the distance in which lies safety.

The raven is ugly in shape, as it is in voice. Its sole beauty lies in the luster of its feathers when the sun strikes them full and fair. It is a bearded bird, with high shoulders and certain bumps and humps here and there to make its form seem utterly lost to symmetry.

The bird is not altogether bad. It robs the nests of other birds, and it is this trait of character which has lost it caste and life in England. The gamekeeper shoots it on sight, and in recent years, because of the growing scarcity, the museum collectors have been hunting the raven in all places where it is reported to have dared to show its head.

The raven is the bird of books. It has a larger place in literature perhaps than all other birds combined if we except the eagle. Shakespeare mentions it no less than fifty times. Milton did not neglect it, and all the poets—ancient, medieval and modern—have considered the raven.

The American raven probably will be safe in his Rocky mountain haunts for years to come, but he is so far removed from man's habitations that his picturesqueness, his oddities, his gravities and his croakings virtually are lost to the world.—Chicago Post.

Hoosier Preparedness.

Centennial year is now with us. We have been thinking and dreaming of it in terms of "next year," but we are now writing it "1916." We have advertised to the world our far-reaching plans for a state-wide observance, including an ambitious scheme of county and state celebrations. We have already invited our guests.

Unusual attention will be attracted toward Indiana this year, because of her Centennial anniversary. States that have already passed their one hundredth milestone will be curious to see how the Hoosier Commonwealth observes hers. States that have the event to look forward to, will be especially observant. In view of the Centennial, many national organizations will meet with us during the year. Moreover, thousands of Ex-Hoosiers are expected to come trooping home from all over the country.

With our Centennial party announced and the guests invited, it behooves us all to busy ourselves to see that we are fully prepared for the raising of the curtain upon our Centennial program. The time is short, and vigorous, united, action must succeed vague and uncertain dreaming.

In the various counties, Centennial chairmen have been appointed, who have accepted the leadership in maturing and executing plans for local observances. They are leaders only. The responsibility rests upon all. It is up to all the public spirited citizens, and to commercial and civic organizations to see that preparations are energetically pushed toward a successful conclusion.

Eleventh hour Centennial celebrations, superficially conceived and frantically executed, will defeat the high purposes of the Centennial and will seriously reflect upon our citizenship. There is no time to be lost. Begin now.

Shall we not bend every energy toward making ready to receive and entertain guests so soon to arrive to do Indiana honor. This is preparedness, sane, logical, imperative. It's 1916. Let's go!

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

"The Sons of Liberty."

The strongholds of the "Sons of Liberty" were on Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri, though they were represented in the eastern states of the North. Vandalia claimed a membership of 40,000 in Indiana in 1864, doubtless a high estimate. There was the double organization, the civil, composed of the mass, working for democratic success; the inner, or military, wishing to form Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, and Wisconsin into a Northwestern Confederacy, and failing in that, to go with the South. The leaders belonged to both organizations.

Choosing.

A dozen pretty girls were cavorting about the stage at an amateur theatrical rehearsal when two young men took seats in the last row. "So your girl's in this show, eh?" said one youth. "Yep," replied the other. "She's on the stage right now." "Which one is she?" "The pretty one," came the reply in all seriousness.—Detroit News.

WHAT IS STYLE?

It is Difficult to Define Because It is So Intangible.

What makes a woman stylish? Applied to dress, style is a curiously elusive quality, either to define or to acquire.

"A stylish garment," we say of one made in the fashion of the day. But when we ask, "What is the style of the garment?" we are inquiring for a description that may be of this year's style, or last year's, or of the last century's. A dress may be "in style" so far as its material, cut and trimming go and yet not look stylish when worn, either because it is worn by the wrong person or in the wrong way.

"A stylish woman," we say of one dressed in a mode, and yet in the next breath we describe another woman as "good style," although she is not wearing the latest fabrics or newest cut and often is not herself beautiful.

Style is not a simple quality, but a compound one. "We say style," says an old writer, "of everything in which form or matter is conceived to be, in however slight degree, expressive of taste and sentiment." And it is taste and sentiment more than a specific mode that go to the making of style in dress—that intangible something so hard to define, so seldom acquired and so much desired because it is so widely admired.

The French word chic expresses, as Americans and English use it today, a good deal of what we have in mind when we say "stylish." It implies a certain knack in the selection and manner of wearing clothes. The meaning in French includes the idea of subtlety and finesse, and it is these qualities more than the elegant (striking) effect that are suggested by the best dressed women, so often lacking in those of expensively dressed Americans.—Good Health.

Entirely Stopped.

It was at a big boxing show in Brooklyn that at the time for beginning the third round of one of the bouts the official master of ceremonies climbed through the ropes and from the center of the ring made this statement: "Gentlemen, I wish to announce that in the last round Harry Pierce broke his hand and is compelled to stop. He is therefore unable to continue. And so he will not fight any more tonight."—Saturday Evening Post.

The First Oyster Eater.

The gluttonous Vitellius is reported to have eaten 1,000 oysters at a sitting. "He was a very valiant man who first ventured on eating of oysters," King James was wont to declare, a sentiment echoed by the poet Gay: The man had sure a palate covered o'er With brass or steel that on the rocky shore First broke the oozy oyster's pearly coat. And risked the living morsel down his throat.

She Knew.

Clergyman—It is bad to lose a husband, madam, but I am sure that as he was such a good man he is happy where he is. Widow—Oh, but I know he isn't happy! Clergyman—Why? Widow—Because he said he could never be happy without me.—Indianapolis Star.

Thackeray's Appetite.

Thackeray, telling of a dinner he enjoyed at Antwerp, said it consisted "of green pea soup, boiled salmon, mussels, crimped skate, roast meat patties, melon, carp stewed with mushrooms and onions, roast turkey, cauliflower, fillets of venison, stewed calf's ear, roast veal, roast lamb, stewed cherries, Gruyere cheese and about twenty-four cakes of different kinds. Except five, thirteen and fourteen I ate all, with three rolls of bread and a score of potatoes."

Those twenty potatoes remind the reader of the dreadful disillusion of Charlotte Bronte when she came to London and sat opposite her literary lion at dinner. "Oh, Mr. Thackeray," she cried in shocked surprise as she watched him eat. She had never imagined a hero who ate potatoes by the score.

Followed Suit.

In the highlands of Scotland a chieftain is always addressed by the name of his estate. An amusing story in connection with this custom is told of Sir Frank Lockwood. On one occasion when MacLaine of Lochbule and his wife arrived at a social gathering they were announced quite correctly by the butler as "Lochbule and Mrs. MacLaine." Sir Frank and Lady Lockwood happened to arrive at the same time, and Sir Frank, having overheard the other announcement, whispered hurriedly to the butler. The man hesitated, but apparently Lockwood convinced him, for when he flung open the door to admit the Lockwoods the butler announced, "No Forty-three, Fortman Square, and Lady Lockwood."—London Tit-Bits.

Ferndell Ferndell Ferndell

This word has become a household word in every Rushville home where Ferndell Pure Foods have been used.

Quality considered, Ferndell foods are no more expensive than other brands and in many instances are cheaper. For instance, Ferndell Tomatoes sell for 15c. Every can is full of whole, ripe, tomatoes and has more food value than two or even three of the cheap varieties. Ferndell Corn is packed in Maine, where the best corn grows, yet we sell it two cans for 25c. Ferndell Telephone Peas at 12 1/2c per can are a great bargain. Ferndell Pearl Hominy at 10c and Ferndell Baked Beans at 15c per can are no higher than any other brands not so good. Ferndell Prepared Pancake and Buckwheat Flours sell for 10c, and contain two ounces more than most brands. Ferndell self-raising Pure Buckwheat Flour is something new, 15c per 2 pound package. Ferndell Canned Fruits cost more than many other brands, but dozens of Rushville housewives will tell you they are glad to pay the difference because no where have they ever found any half so good. We will call your attention to but one article in the canned fruits. Ferndell Skinless Figs are the most delicious fruit ever put in a can. Each can contains one pound and 7 ounces and sells for 40c. We have lately taken up Ferndell Coffees and our customers tell us they are of the same high quality as the rest of the line, prices, 25c, 30c, 35c, and 40c per lb. When you want something better and different ask us for FERNDOLL—No other store in Rushville has these goods.

BROOKVILLE GAME IS NEXT

Locals Go There Friday Expecting a Hard Contest.

The Rushville high school team will play at Brookville Friday night. The local team has gained much confidence over the Shelbyville victory and Coach Burns is pointing his men to a second win over Brookville. Rushville defeated Brookville here two weeks ago, but with Brookville on its home floor the locals are expecting a hard fought game. It will be the first time Rushville has ever played in Brookville and a crowd of rooters will accompany the team. The team came out of the Shelbyville game in good shape and the regular lineup will be sent against Brookville.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully, and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

TURKS MEET WITH GREATEST VICTORY

Constantinople Dispatches Says Violent Battle Preceded Withdrawal of The Allies.

10,000 TROOPS SURROUNDED

(By United Press.)
Berlin, (By Wireless), Jan. 11.—A violent battle lasting for three days preceded the Anglo-French withdrawal from the Gallipoli peninsula, according to Constantinople dispatches today, reporting the greatest Turkish victory of the war.

"Turk artillery sank an enemy transport filled with soldiers," the dispatch said. "All the enemies positions were occupied by Turkish troops and enormous piles of booty as yet uncounted were taken."

Ten thousand British troops have been surrounded by Turks south-east of Bagdad, according to dispatches from Constantinople.

The British detachment was left behind to cover the retreat of the main body of General Townsend's forces who were defeated with heavy casualties when they advanced on Bagdad.

Hunting Season For All Kinds of Game Closes Monday—Game Wardens on the Alert.

NO MORE RABBITS ON MARKET

The hunting season for all kinds of game closed Monday until April 1st. The open quail season closed December 30 and since that time it was lawful to kill rabbits. After Monday, however, it is unlawful to hunt any kind of wild game until the first day of April.

It is understood that the game wardens will endeavor to enforce the closed season regulations and will be on the alert for violators. There have been few arrests in this vicinity during the fall and winter for violations of the game laws and it is understood that the hunters have been complying with the laws. The average hunter is as much interested in protecting game, especially quail, as the farmer and is quick to assist the wardens in prosecuting any attempt to violate the law.

FUNERAL IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Last Sad Rites Will be Held Over Body of Wesley Miller Who Died of Gangrene.

WIDOW AND TWO SONS LEFT

The funeral services of Wesley Miller, who died yesterday about noon at his home, three miles south of Arlington in Posey township, will be conducted Wednesday morning at ten o'clock in the Arlington Christian church and burial will take place in the East Hill cemetery there. The services will be in charge of the Odd Fellows lodge of which Mr. Miller was a member.

Mr. Miller was sixty-three years old and was a well known farmer of Posey township. He had been ill for several weeks suffering from gangrene and it was found necessary to amputate his leg just below the knee. The shock occasioned from this together with complications resulted in his death. Mr. Miller is survived by his widow and two sons, Oscar Miller and Roy Miller.

ATHLETIC LEAGUE ADVOCATED HERE

Plan is Presented as Method to Solve Problem of Allowing Out-siders Use of the Gym.

SCHOOL BOARD SANCTIONS IT

Several Rushville men have proposed the organization of an athletic association as a means of utilizing the new gymnasium in the Graham Annex school building. It is advocated that those interested in such a project and who want to "work out" at the gymnasium should band together in an organization, with the payment of small dues, to meet the local expenses such as the actual cost of lighting and janitor's work.

The question has been submitted to the school board and has met with the trustees' approval. They welcomed it as an ideal method to solve the problem of allowing others than high school students the use of the gymnasium. It is stated that the organization could draft by-laws and fix certain hours when the gym could be used by members of the association. Also, it is stated, the association could put out independent teams to meet those of surrounding cities. It is highly probable a meeting of interested persons will be called soon to form such an association.

Amusements

The Princess will show a 3 reel feature "Despair" for the program tonight. Bryant Washburn and Edna Mayo are featured and it is a story of unusual interest and is full of action and dramatic situations. Tomorrow matinee and night the next chapter of "Neal of the Navy" will be shown. On Friday night the New York Sun's prize scenario picture "The Sins of the Mothers" will be shown. Four thousand manuscripts were submitted in this contest. The judges were John Bunny, Maurice Costello and a number of other men interested in better pictures. "The Sins of the Mothers" is a story of gambling. The heroine is a beautiful girl. She loves cards. She loves races. She loves roulette. She loves all games of chance. Anita Stewart and Earl Williams are featured.

The Gem will show the sixteenth episode of "The Broken Coin" for the first picture tonight. A thrilling race between a torpedo boat and an ocean liner is one of the big scenes. The other picture is a comedy entitled "Wanted a Leading Lady."

Football fans will be intensely interested in a genuine football match between two western elevens in "The College Orphan," a romantic college comedy produced by William C. Dowlan of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, which comes to the Gem theatre tomorrow with "Carter De Haven and Flora Parker De Haven in the principal roles. "The College Orphan" is a drama with high spots of comedy. It tells the story of a hellraising young college boy who gets some stiff jolts all around but who has the makings of a man in him and lands on his feet after some hair-raising adventures.

Glycerine and Bark Prevent Appendicitis

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, astonishes Rushville people. Because Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is astonishing, F. E. Wolcott, druggist.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy nose, cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

HE THRUST GRIEF ASIDE.

Because He Was a Journalist, With a Duty to Perform.

Apropos of journalistic enthusiasm, Mr. Arnold Bennett furnishes a humorous illustration. He was twenty and a reporter for a small paper. An election had taken place in which his paper's candidate had been defeated and a brewer had won. His editor had given him instructions that if they lost he was to make fun of the brewer, and in any case to deliver his copy by 11 o'clock next morning. Mr. Bennett says:

"I attended the declaration of the poll, and as the elated brewer made his speech of ceremony in front of the town hall I observed that his hat was stove in and askew. I fastened on that detail and went to bed in meditation upon the facetious notes which I was to write early on the morrow. In the middle of the night I was awakened up. My venerable grandfather, who lived at the other end of the town, had been taken ill and was dying. As his eldest grandson, my presence at the final scene was indispensable. I went and talked in low tones with my elders. "Nothing domestic could be permitted to interfere with my duty as a journalist."

"I must write those facetious comments while my grandfather is dying! This thought filled my brain. It seemed to me to be fine, splendid. I was intensely proud of being laid under a compulsion so startlingly dramatic. Could I manufacture jokes while my grandfather expired? Certainly. I was a journalist. And never since have I been so ardently a journalist as I was that night and morning. With a sense of the theatrical, I wrote my notes at dawn."

CATCHING THE SOUND WAVES.

They Are First Imprisoned in Wax and Then Transferred to a Negative in Copper, and From This Master Mold the Records Are Obtained.

The Edison phonograph, the graphophone type perfected by Bell and Tainter and the gramophone type by Berliner are all based on substantially the same principle. Sound waves set up in the air by any sound are allowed to strike a delicately held diaphragm, which vibrates under the impact of the sound waves. The vibrations are made to leave a record on a suitable medium, and this sound record is used to perform the inverse operation when it is required to reproduce recorded sounds—that is, the record is made to vibrate a sensitive diaphragm and set up in the air particular waves, which convey to the ear the impression of sound.

The differences in the systems are in the way in which the vibrations are recorded. The disk record, which made the machine popular, was first manufactured in the United States in 1897. Improvements in the machine and in the needles followed.

To make a gramophone record a person sings before the mouth of a horn, the object of which is to concentrate the energy of the sound waves upon the recording diaphragm. At the narrow end of the horn are the recording sound box and the machine with its attendant expert. There is a screen between singer and operator to guard the secrets of the sound box. On the farther side of the screen is a horizontal table carrying a wax tablet, rotated beneath the recording sound box at a uniform speed, usually about seventy-six revolutions per minute. As the table rotates it travels laterally at a uniform speed, and the wax tablet is thus caused to travel slowly under the stationary recording box. The sapphire cutting point is lowered so as to enter the wax three and one-half to four one-thousandths of an inch, and as the machine runs it cuts a fine spiral groove, running from the edge to the center. The construction of the sound box is secret, as is the composition of the wax tablet.

The next step in the process is the reproduction of the record as a negative in copper. The wax is dusted with graphite and worked into the grooves with a badger brush to make it electro-conductive; then it is lowered into an electrolytic bath of copper salt solution. The wax is kept in continuous motion in the bath until the copper shell is nine-tenths of a millimeter in thickness.

This negative is a master, and from this a few commercial samples can be pressed to test the quality of the record. The manufacturers, however, wish to make thousands of copies without hurting their master; therefore they make duplicates of their master by taking impressions in wax composition, from which working matrices are made. Then copper shells are obtained from these in the same way. The copper shell is then backed by a brass plate one-half inch in thickness by soldering under pressure.

Then the matrix is nickel plated on the recorded side in order to wear better and after polishing is ready for the pressing machine. The commercial record is pressed into some substance hard at normal temperature and plastic under heat and very hard and smooth. Various compounds are employed by different makers, but shellac is the principal ingredient. Shellac, wood charcoal, heavy spar and earthy coloring matter in certain proportions are used.

This compound after careful mixing is rolled into thin sheets and divided into sections, one for each record. The section is then pressed by a hydraulic press. The matrix is heated and placed face up in a mold, the label is placed face down on the matrix, and on this is placed in a warm, plastic state enough material for one record. Both halves of the press are furnished with cooling plates, through which streams of water can be passed, and the surfaces are cooled quickly. The record is then removed, the edges trimmed with emery wheels, and it is then ready for sale.—New York Times.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break up a cold or cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

DOWN MEN AND WOMEN.

PROVE IT YOURSELF BY BUYING a box of Tonaline Tablets Now.

"By George I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment Tonaline Tablets, for building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer, and almost everything else you could think of.

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment Tonaline Tablets. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by use of Tonaline Tablets so I decided to try myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger. Tonaline Tabs are a powerful inducer to nutrition, increases cell-growth, food, increases the number of blood-corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles and solid healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

SHORT COURSE GETS UNDER WAY

Annual School For Farmers at Purdue University Attended by Over 2,000 and Their Wives.

WILL CONTINUE FIVE DAYS

Two Meetings of Agricultural Associations Enliven Opening Session—Others to Come.

Lafayette, Jan. 11.—With the largest attendance in the history of the school, the Purdue short course for farmers opened here today and will last until the 15th. Nearly every agricultural organization in state is holding its meeting this week here, special programs have been arranged for several of them. Five days work in the special branch of chicken raising are on the program for those interested in that line of industry. Over 2,000 farmers are in attendance including many women and children.

In every department the visitors got down to hard work today. The corn growers are studying the problems of their particular phase of farming and in the other departments the horticulturists, the dairymen the poultrymen and the housewives are hearing lectures, witnessing demonstrations and learning many new things concerning their life work. Thursday evening the assembly will hear an address on "Rural Church Welfare" by the Rev. Oakel F. Hall of Purdue.

Two meetings of agricultural associations enlivened today's sessions of the Short Course. The Indiana State Poultry association, a new organization, and the Indiana Sheep Feeders and Breeders association both held their yearly conventions in connection with the Short Course. Tomorrow the Indiana Corn Growers Association will meet and the annual corn show will open. Thursday the Indiana State Dairy Association meets and also the Indiana Home Economics Association.

One of the most interesting features of the week's program was an illustrated lecture last night by Prof. George I. Christie, superintendent of the Agricultural Extension Department, on "The Relation of Purdue University to Indiana Agriculture and Country Life." It was the first of the popular evening assemblies in connection with the Short Course. Prof. Christie took advantage of the occasion to review the progress that has been made in agriculture in Indiana during the past two decades. He defined the policies of Purdue University and emphasized the fact that it is a many-sided institution that deals with numerous phases of education. But since agriculture is Indiana's principal industry he showed the relation of all branches of the University to the farms of the state. Every department has contributed in some manner to rural advancement.

In the dairy section today several problems that confront Indiana dairymen were considered. Prof. R. E. Caldwell said that the economical selection of concentrated high protein feeds for dairy cows is the big problem before the feeder of dairy cows at the present time. Cotton seed meal has been an economical feed in past years, but the present scarcity and high price almost eliminated it.

One of the most interesting numbers on the program of the Home Economics division of the Short Course was a talk today by Mrs. Christine Frederick of New York on "The Efficiency Kitchen and Its Tools." "Equipment must be arranged to fit the kitchen," she said in a way to save steps and time. The choice of tools depends upon the need. All tools should be regarded on an investment basis. Labor-saving devices must be considered from the standpoint of cost of installation, use and care before being purchased as labor savers.

"The Farm Orchard," a lecture by Prof. C. G. Woodbury, was the principal feature of the day's program in the Horticultural Section. He urged farmers either to have a small home orchard or else a commercial orchard and but which are absolutely neglected from a commercial point of view. "The farmer listens to the glib-tongued nurseryman," said Prof. Woodbury, "and makes large plantings that he can never take care of. In order to make an orchard pay you must give as much thought and attention to an orchard acre as you do to a corn acre. Can't neglect your orchard. It is better to cut down the trees, leaving only enough to supply your own home needs. Every farm should have a home orchard but only those farms owned by men in sympathy with fruit growing should attempt to support a commercial orchard as a side-line."

The popularity of the judging work in corn given at the Farmers' Short Course was never more apparent than this year, as indicated by the large number of farmers and their sons attending these classes. Today it was necessary to provide extra quarters to take care of the record-breaking attendance. The object is to instruct farmers in selecting the right kind of seed corn and properly storing the ears so they will dry out quickly.

Prof. Martin L. Fisher discussed "Forage Crops" this morning and said that every year there are thousands of farms in the state on which not sufficient forage is produced to adequately supply the needs of the livestock kept. He said that special forage crops can be used to good advantage. Rape makes a good substitute for clover for hogs and sheep.

Chairman Hay Tells President Continental Army Plan is Doomed Increase in Regulars, Though.

COMPROMISED IS FORECASTED

(By United Press.) Washington, Jan. 11.—Rising opposition to the administration's preparedness program was considered at today's cabinet meeting. The president also conferred with Chairman Hay of the house military committee. Hay is understood to have told the president that the continental army plan is doomed but that some increase in the regular army and expansion of the national guard as a reserve army are favored. The president, it was learned, plans to exercise his personal influence on members of the senate and house to counteract influence of W. J. Bryan. Half-hearted support of Democratic leaders was emphasized. A compromise on both the army and navy programs was forecasted.

MAY WIN OVER LABOR PARTY

(By United Press.) London, June 11.—Unexpected announcement today by John Redmond, Irish leader, that the Irish party has withdrawn its opposition to the government conscription bill made it appear certain that the measure will pass commons by an overwhelming vote. Redmond warned the government a fortnight ago that Ireland would bitterly oppose an attempt to force conscription. The government's decision to exclude Ireland from the provisions of the bill won over several Irish leaders. Efforts will be made tomorrow to win the support of the labor party and obtain the passage of the bill as nearly unanimously vote as possible to show that Great Britain presents a united front.
